

PROMOTION IDEAS FOR SCHOOL ART LEADERS

Carmel College is a patron of the arts and has a strong culture of supporting new artists especially past pupils. ArtFusions is proud to expand this patronage by inviting all Catholic Schools from the greater Auckland area to encourage their budding artists to submit works to compete, and win a spot in Carmel College's Art Fusions Exhibition 2017. Students will need to be reminded of the competition regularly if they are to be encouraged to prepare art works during the summer holidays.

Posters Put posters up in several areas where students congregate. Email Carmel College and register for updated posters as the Carmel College students design them.

Display In 3 separate areas create a display with posters, registration forms, examples of art, a banana box and a box template shoeing the size for the wall art.

Announcements During assemblies announce the competition and where the students can find more information

Newsletter CATHOLIC SCHOOLS ART COMPETITION
Win the opportunity to expose your talents to the Auckland art world and sell your art. Ask for an entry form at the school office or go to www.artfusions.org for details.

Demonstrations At assembly roll in a piece of art on a display board and hold a fake auction with posers n the crowd to raise the price. Then remind everyone to register.

Get a dressed up student to reflect, um and aah then paint a red dot on a blank canvas. Then remind everyone to register.

Get the head prefect to solemnly walk up to the microphone, ask the students to stand, announce in a very serious voice that there is a grave announcement. Then with a long pause leaning forward say "Artfusions, have you registered?"
