DEFENCE FORCE

<http://www.defencecareers.mil.nz/>

This website has a wealth of information about life in the Defence Force, the types of careers available and explains the application process. It is also the new home for people to register interest and apply online for a career in the Navy, Air Force or Army. For those who cannot access the internet easily, we also have our 0800 1FORCE help line available. Once people have applied, our dedicated team of Candidate Coordinators are on hand to take applicants through the recruitment process. We are recruiting now for the huge range of jobs starting in January.

Information on the trades we're recruiting for, entry requirements and an online application form can all be found on the Army Jobs Website

The application form is a great way to start and is the first step in a process that can take some time, so if you've got students keen on a career with NZ Army, prompt them to apply within the week.

Your students might be keen to take our Career Indicator quiz on our armyjobs website. It's a fun quiz that will provide insight into one of our many trade options.
